Sustainability Leaders
IDA Programme

The climate crisis is the most pressing issue facing the world today, one that poses a significant threat to the global economy and our way of life. While many businesses around the world are responding to this challenge by embedding climate-related actions into their strategic thinking, sustainability leadership is not without its challenges.

The Skillnet Climate Ready Academy aims to support Irish businesses in developing the skills and talent required to overcome these challenges and to mitigate the effects of our changing climate and environment.

Demonstrate your commitment to a sustainable future

IDA clients play a significant role in the supply chains of their parent companies. This programme will give you the ability to demonstrate your commitment to a sustainable future, while also benefitting from the opportunities that will arise as customers and investors seek out partners that share their commitment to tackling this crisis.

Helping you build the skills you need

Aligned with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs), this program offers practical support and guidance, empowering companies to forge a comprehensive sustainability strategy and action plan.

- Embrace responsible and sustainable business practices towards a decarbonised economy.
- Examine the challenges of transitioning to a sustainable business model, and learn how to overcome them through identifying the key organisational levers that facilitate change.
- The programme has the dual target of developing trainee skills at an individual level and delivering tangible impacts at organisation level.
